A detailed sculpture of a cherub and a winged figure, possibly an angel, emerging from a rectangular frame. A ruler is placed vertically to the left for scale.

A detailed ivory carving of a cherub and an eagle. The cherub is depicted in a reclining position, wearing a long, flowing robe and a decorative headpiece. The eagle is perched above the cherub, with its wings spread. The carving is set within a rectangular frame. A ruler is placed vertically to the left of the carving for scale.

A detailed porcelain miniature of a child in a cradle being visited by an angel. The child, with curly blonde hair, is lying in a cradle with a white ruffled pillow and a white blanket. An angel with large white wings and a halo is perched on the cradle's edge, holding a small white object. A hand is visible holding a small white object near the child's head. The scene is framed by a gold-colored border. A ruler is placed vertically to the left of the miniature for scale.
